So we have a 'What if...' section which we will add these ideas to. Suggestions are welcome, and if possible can be voted on. If you don't like the idea, that's fine too. Thanks for your input. Webjunkie. What would HN think if Facebook didn't exist? they too many annoying ads? ===== anigbrowl So every day I try to discover an overlooked avenue of profitable startups/ideas/markets. I've created a few tools to help (also a great resource) and (promoting sites to other sites) This should be useful to you all, though I'd be interested in knowing your concerns. ~~~ webjunkie Thanks for the link, I'll check that out. Contents In the upper halves of Gettling Park it's now possible to find the pallasite needles from the Venera-1 lander. Small fragments of it can be found in the areas from the 2nd asteroid to the middle of the Gettling Lake, at the ponds on the right side of the Valley of Pallas by the

I am using Dapper to update my database, but I have a column on my table with the following where condition: [req_num] like ('%[A-Z][0-9][A-Z][0-9][A-Z][0-9]' I have tried where req_num like '%[A-Z][0-9][A-Z][0-9][A-Z][0-9]%' but that just allows the whole string to be found. I only want the first 3 characters in the string to be allowed. How do I go about doing this? A: A regular expression is what you need: where req_num rlike '^ [A-Z][0-9][A-Z][0-9][A-Z][0-9]$' Regular expressions are pretty confusing in their own right, but the above condition would allow a String which contains three lowercase letters, one upper case letter, three lowercase letters and one upper case letter. The ^ and $ ensure that the entire String is allowed and the $ ensures the String doesn't allow a single lowercase letter, or f678ea9f9e
